

LBMW Radio Louisville EBS

Message 1

This is the emergency broadcast system. This is not a test. Repeat this is not a test. The Center for Disease Control is reporting the outbreak of a new virus strain that is causing the infected to become extremely vicious and to exhibit cannibalistic tendencies. As of this broadcast there is no known cure for the blood borne virus. In order to keep you and your family safe, the CDC is advising that you stay in your homes and lock all doors, block all windows and barricade any point of entry. Keep calm and listen to the radio or TV for official news updates. Again, stay indoors and maintain protective measures until notified by the media or public safety. Stay tuned for further instructions.
