

St Memphis Aid Request, May 15th, 1995

Mission Briefing

Apollo:

“ Hello, Let’s get Started.To our west outside the KSSA’s governed area a new faction has sprung up in the ruins of Paducah, KY. The survivors of St Louis and Memphis have come together to build the city of St Memphis as the Capital of this area. Their leader, First Lieutenant Jarren Ohorie, has sent Lee Price as a representative. I’ll turn the floor over to him now.

Lee Price:

“ Volunteers, I’m here as a representative of St. Memphis to barter and request aid from all of you and the KSSA. We’re in dire need of fuel, ammunition, and tools. We’re willing to provide air drops and air support as needed once we’re on our feet.We thank you for your time and support.

Apollo:

“ Unfortunately, as we hurried to package the shipments, the noise attracted a bit too much heat and we were forced to fall back and abandon the shipments. We’ll be splitting you up into teams. Each team will head to their designated locations, clear out the areas, finish packing the shipments as needed, and then bring the shipment to the northwest checkpoint. Once the shipment is confirmed received at the NW Checkpoint, you can return to Sanctuary for payment.

Mission Debriefing

Apollo:

“ All supplies were accounted for and Lee and his crew were able to safely make it back to St Memphis. As a further sign of good faith and our future alliance, he suggested a small amount of gas to be distributed back to the citizens of the area. We have distributed a small amount of gas to Rosewood, Riverside, Muldraugh, and Sanctuary. From the reports on the front line, it seems there were a significantly higher than normal amount of zeds attacking each group. I can't help but wonder if this attack was coordinated against our efforts. For sure something to muse over. Thank you all for joining and Good Luck.
