

Water Treatment Plant Investigation, June 18th, 1995

Mission Briefing

Apollo:

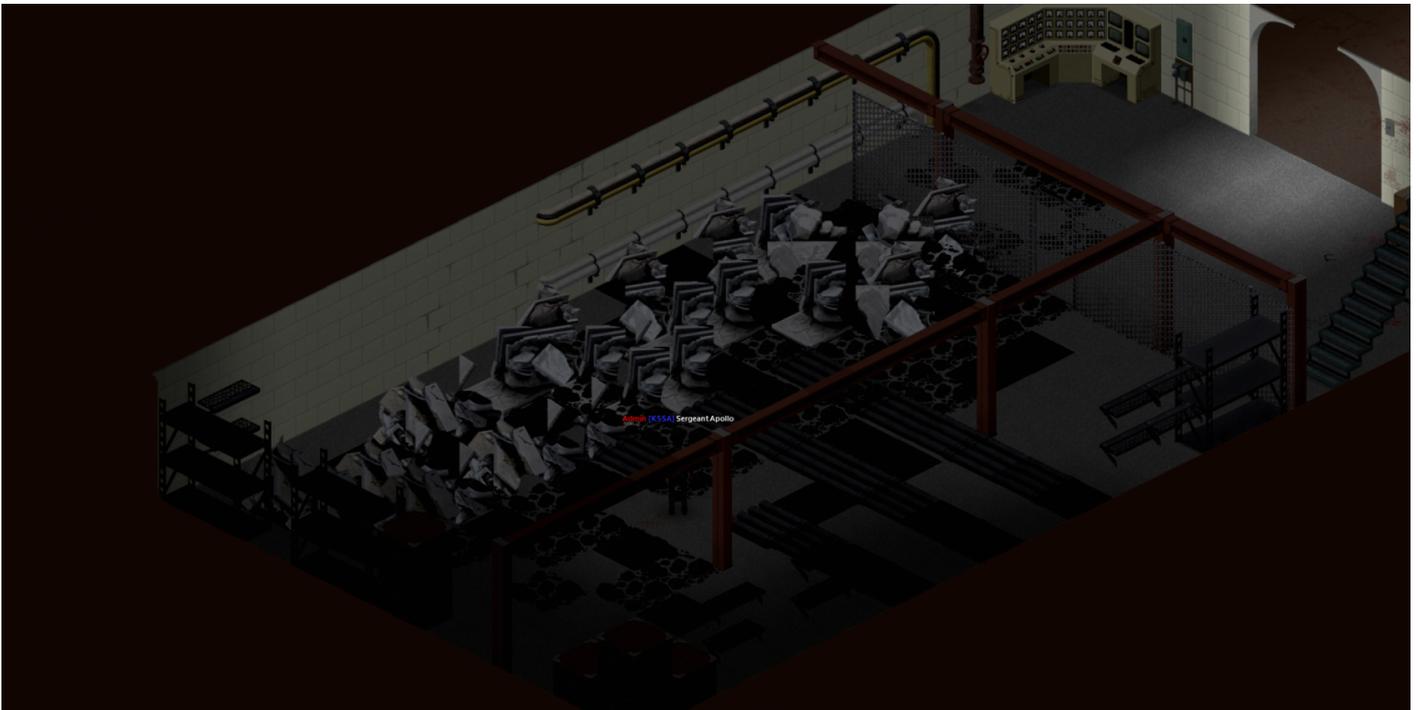

“Survivors, We have a priority mission: the celebration will have to be canceled. About an hour ago we received an alert stating that pollution levels were significantly higher than normal at the water treatment plant. The last time this happened a small group of zeds had wandered into the river and couldn't get out. Eventually the current washed their filth away, thankfully. This time, the levels are 4-5x higher, meaning there's likely a significant number in or around the shoreline. On top of this initial alert, we lost all communication with the water treatment plant automated systems and currently cannot raise anyone on the radio. With the timing, I can't help but worry that once again we're victims of sabotage. We've not yet received any alerts from the power plant, but if it is sabotage, they could target those points of interest as well. We'll be deploying 4 teams, good luck out there.

Mission Debrief

Apollo:

“Teams, thank you for your hard work out there. I've had a chance to visit both the water treatment plant and the Trimble County Sub Station. Pictures have been attached below. From the looks of things, the repairs needed to the pump room at the water treatment plant will be extremely extensive, and will not be completed in the near future. Further, all staff that were there at the time of the attack were found dead. As for the sub station, there is damage, but it's mostly random from the huge number of zombies. This should be fixable, but we may need parts/supplies, time will tell. Reports indicate that the Sub Station squad caught one of the ЯTR members actively setting up noise makers to draw in zeds. They chased him out of the area, but failed to catch him. He then drove by the upriver squad drawing in more zombies to their fight. Shortly after that he took shots at the Water Treatment Plant group before pulling in even more zeds to them as well. The Monmouth group sighted him, but he didn't approach. He was finally cornered in West Point where his vehicle was disabled, but due to the active zed population he was able to slip away. We're currently not sure of their full intentions, but it's clear that this group is actively attacking our infrastructure. It's hard to say if they'll openly attack survivors on the road, but for now, please be on guard during your travels. We will continue to investigate and collect information. Stay safe out there.
